Major Fairbank was Asst-Adjutant of the Lincoln and Welland Regt. when that unit was ordered to mobilize on August 26, 1938, and he has been on steady duty since that time. The regiment went on duty for a few weeks on the Welland canal and was demobilized. Major Fairbank, then a Captain, transferred to the Paymaster Corps, active army, and proceeded overseas in January of 1940 as Paymaster of a Western Canada

W. H. Cooper Construction Company Of Hamilton Will Do The Job For $37,070 -Local Workmen And Trades To Be Given Preference.

At a recent meeting of the Board of Directors of West -Lincoln afemorial Hospital, scaled tenders were opened and work to the extent of $37,079.00 was awarded to the W. H. Cooper Construction Company of Hamilton, this being the only complete tender.

It was provided that local workmen and local trades would be given an opportunity to participate. A number of tenders were received for sections of the work, these taken collectively, were found to aggregate considerably higher than the one complete tender. The W. H. Cooper Co. have had a great deal of experience in the construction of Hospitals, and the local job will have the benefit of their knowledge and guidance.

In conversation with Hospital officials, it was stated that work will start September 1st, probably after Labor Day, and in reply to s question as to when the job would be finished, it was frankly pointed out, we have $32,000.00 lined up and we need more to complete this contract and pay for equipment and operating funds, so the opening will be according to how fast the balance of the money comes in

It was further stated that the entire set-up has been changed since the project was first started. as more or less a First Aid Station, and will now be a General

FACTS & FANCIES

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

THE REAL CAUSE OF CANADIAN DISUNITY

Following George Drew's recent outspoken declaration that Quebec cannot be permitted to dominate the destiny of Canada a Liberal newspaper described the Premier's address as an "expression of hostility to a sister province." That was a comment to be expected from a slavish supporter of the Mackenzie King government. It was also a very superficial diagnosis of a deep-seated disease. It showed no inclination to take note of conditions which gave rise to Mr. Drew's speech and which form a basis of criticism of Quebec in the other provinces.

What is needed is a clear definition of what national unity involves. Having obtained that definition it is easier to discern wherein this country, or a part of it, fails to measure up to the standard and thereby contributes to disurity.

We believe that the basis of national unity depends on all sections of a nation pulling together equally for one common end. If every section of the country subscribes to the common purpose and within its capacity does its share there will be a fundamental national unity. Superficial irritations will not matter. In time they will disappear.

Take this thesis that national unity depends fundamentally upon each section doing its part in a national emergency such as the winning of the war, and measure the effort of each of the nine provinces by it. No better evidence could come to hand than the official figures published Monday by the Wartime Information Board on the intake into the Canadian armed forces from each of the nine provinces since the outbreak of the

These statistics, better than anything else, tell the story of what each province is prepared to do to maintain the existence of this country, and hence to perpetuate it as an entity. The tabulation discloses the total number of men in the 18 to 45 military age groups who have passed through the armed services from the outbreak of war to March 31, 1944. The percentages of intake to the total male military population are 'he significant figures:

	Male pop. 18-45 years	Total intake in services	of intake to male pop
Nova Scotia	123,000	56,128	45.6
P.E.I.	19,000	7,297	38.4
N.B	94,000	40,968	43.6
Quebec	699,000	154,503	22.1
Ontario	830,000	359,006	43.3
Manitoba	159,000	69,168	43.5
Saskatchewan	191,000	74,296	28.9
Alberta	179,000	71,335	40.1
Br. Columbia	181,000	80,391	44.4
	2,474,000	913,092	36.11

An examination of these percentages reveals that in proportion to male population between 18 and 45 years Quebec's contribution was nalf that of Nova Scotia and British Columbia. The contribution by Ontario, New Brunswick and Manitoba was very nearly twice that of Quebec. The contributions by P.E.I., Saskatchewan and Alberta were orly slightly less than the other eight Englishspeaking provinces. It is worthy of note at all of these eight provinces made approvimately the same contribution in proportion to their available manpower. Here is an example of all pulling equally on the oars. Quebec's meagre effort stanus out in strong contrast.

If one province hangs back does it not lay itself open to criticism? If it likewise demands special privileges is it not also inviting expressions of hostility? Who is to blame but itself? The root of disunity in Canada to-day is Quebec's refusal to march with the remainder of the country.

Money never made a feel of anybuddy; it only shows 'em up.

WEALTH AND WORK

Sometime ago I wrote a brief story, pens R. J. Deachman, telling of one, Harkness of New York, financier and philanthropist who died, leaving an estate of over $93 million, after distributing, during his lifetime, $117 million, in gifts, to different institutions.

The question I raised was this: Is the world poorer or richer because of this man's accumulation of wealth? In the answers, 1 wanted the writers to assume that Harkness made his money in legitimate business, that it grew out of industry just as the fortune of Henry Ford grew. I wanted it to be discussed from the standpoint of an earned fortune, not as one inherited or made in speculation.

Many of the comments received ignored, or failed to understand, that particular point. They approached the question from the standpoint of one who had got much and gave little or nothing. They left, unanswered, the real question; is the world poorer or richer because of this man's accumulation of wealth?

From a woman, Mrs. Blanche Palmiter of Riding Mountain Manitoba, writing in the Necpawa Press, came this statement:

"One of my former pupils, Mr. Henry Morley, of Riding Mountain, expressed it this way in Thurston's Store not long ago: "Oh why don't we quit our grousing and DO something for ourselves?" Until we are all imbued with the same spirit there will be cause for grumbling and discontent in spite of prayers, or tears. The change MUST come from within ourselves.

Now, Mr. Harkness, who accumulated such a vast fortune, giving largely of his wealth, the while, may have preferred some other type of service, but his gift was for finance. Assuming that he gained his wealth honestly, it should be no concern of ours how much be somenutated; and we could then be free to adm: the man for all the benefits he was able to bestow upon mankind; for certainly no man could accumulate so much money honestly without benefitting the community, even the nation, consequently every person in it-including me. That being true, my conclusion is that the would is richer because of this man's accumulated wealth."

That, in my judgment, is the real answer to the question. The world is richer and the burden of life is lighter because someone invented a binder, a combine, a tractor or a milking machine. It is better that we should have electric lights, radios, aluminum pans, motor cars, steamships and trains, even though some man, out of these things, may have made great fortunes.

Fortunes are ephemeral. They pass away. Men have accumulated wealth in almost every age and many of them have contributed, in so doing, incalculable benefits to mankind. We must not let envy, of the success of others, darken our minds to real facts. The real wealth of the world comes from intelligence, from the minds of men and women, from those who have found better, simpler methods of doing things.

MOTHER COOKS

A farmer in the West who, aided by three teen-age children, successfully put in his hay appeared notably industrious to the Associated Press and deservedly got his name in the papers.

The farmer is little different from other farmers, unless he be considered fortunate to have teen-age children. We know one farmer who sees nothing unusual in letting his six-year-old boy drive the trator up from the fields and back it around reder the hay door.)

Instead, it is the farmer's wife who attracted our attention in this little story of wartime adaptability. The story said, all too briefly, that mother cooks.

The midsummer swelter of an urban press bureau is no place to judge the heroic labors of a mother who cooks for a haying crew, and it is only to absurdity of such judgment that relegat a the brave woman to a single sentence with an "also-present" inference.

Those in the nc ds and in the mows know all too well the value of Mother's contribution. As they toss up bunches from a midfield knoll they can see her at the woodpile picking up chips in ner apron -- something to burn up hot and quick, to heat the store but not the house.

Later the haymakers in the field hear the dinner horn, and look up to see Mother standing in the faint breeze by the kitchen door, wiping her face on her apron hem, hot, tired, lonesome and honestly bedraggled. But the green peas are on the table, tall glasses of milk are poured out, tomatoes and cucumbers are sliced in bowls, hot biscuits and honey are looking for customers, and from the far meadow the crew can almost smell the Duchess apple pies on the sink shelf.

Mother, indeed, cooks-and it was not thoughtful of the Associated Press to mention the fact so fleetingly.

Th' trouble is most parents don't won? about a daughter till she fails t' show up fey breakrast, an' then it's too late.

WAY BACK WHEN

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

EGINNING the week of August 16, 1914 - 30 D years ago - I find nothing in The Independent but war news and activities of organizations on war work. The late Hamilton Fleming, then Reeve of North Grimsby, and his township council have undertaken to lend a carload of fruit for the boys at Valcartier Camp. Mrs. Mary Hainer, just arrived back from a visit to England, brings the word that all England is proud of Canada and Canadians for the manner in which they answered the call when the Old Lion roared. She was in London when war was declared.

Another story tells about the "Fightin" " 44th Boys, leaving Welland, Thorold and other Welland Canal points for Valcartier. A long letter from Valcartier, written by Lieut. Livingston, tells of the long train journey to that camp, and of the good conduct of the "Fighting B" boys of the 2nd Dragoons. Part of his letter is as follows:-

"The boys of "Fighting B" are all well, but the

I AM THE COUNTRY WEEKLY

I am the friend of the family, the bringer of tidings from other frient; I speak to the home in the evening light summer's vine-clad porch or the glow of sinter's lamp.

I help to make this evening hour; I record the great and the small, the varied acts of the day and weeks that go to make up

I am for and of the home; I follow those who leave humble beginnings; whether they go to greatness or to the gutter, I take to them the thrill of old days with wholesome messages.

I speak the language of the common man; my words are fitted to his understanding. My congregation is larger than that of any church in town; my readers are more than those in the school. Young and old alike find in me stimulation, instruction, entertainment, inspiration, solace, comfort. I am the chronicle of birth and love and death - the three great facts of man's existence.

I bring together buyer and seller, to the benefit of both; I am part of the market place of the world. Into the home I carry word of the goods which feed, and clothe, and shelter, and which minister to comfort, ease, health, and happiness.

I am the world of the week, the history of the year, the record of my community in the archives of state and nation.

I am the exponent of the lives of my readers.

work is going to be hard. We are cavalry men and it is going to be tough to change over to the infantry drill, which is quite different. Our lines are right next to the 77th gang from Dundas and of course we are right at home with those boys, who are under the command of Major Kimmins and Capt. Homes Carpenter. Lieut. Long and myself have been confirmed in our commissions and Sergt.-Major Russell Ross has been made a Provisional Lieutenant. Sergt Charlie Mackie has been made a Junior Sergeant and Trooper Ken. Morris has been made Orderly Room Sergeant."

"Sergt. Hugh Whyte has been made a Corporal and Trooper Thomas has been made Regimental-Sergeant Cook. "Buck" (none other than William Adolphus Wentworth, the hero of a million wars) is the company barber and making a good job of it."

91st Highlanders of Hamilton have left for Valcartier and with them was Major H. L. Roberts (later Colonel Roberts) of Grimsby. Edward J. Harshaw, a son of John Harshaw of the Thirty, enlisted at Niagara Falls. F. G. H. Pattison writes "To The Editor" from Scotland and tells of the great praise that Canada is receiving in The Land of the Thistle for the remarkable manner in which she is Responding to the Call.

Reeve Randall sends a letter of thanks to Mayor Petrie of St. Catharines, thanking him and the citizens of that city for the kindness and hospitality that they extended to the "Fighting B" boys while they were quartered in that city.

Men, women and children, were all on one mission bent-30 years ago-win that war. Men were volunteering by the thousands. Women and children were doing everything in their power to provide funds to buy comforts and necessities for the "Boys." Still there had to be plenty of propaganda published in order to get some folks to do their bit. Here is a sample of some of that literature:-

- L Every employer must report on Schedule 9 to the Registrar for his Mobilization Division, concerning any employee found not to possess documents as refererd to:
- 3. Every employer is required similarly to check the documents held by each male employee newly engaged between May 1st, 1944, and August 22nd, 1944, and to report to the Registrar for his Mobilization Division by August 29th, 1944, on any such employee found not to possess documents as referred to;
- 4. Any male employee here referred to, is required by the Regulations to present his documents to his employer for purposes of inspection;
- 5. Penalties are provided for any employer or male employee who falls to comply with these Regulations.

By an earlier order, employers were required to check the documents held by their male employees, and to report by May 1st, 1944, on doubtful cases as well as cases where employees did not possess documents. The procedure for the present continuing check, although being notified to employers in "Notice to Employers and their Male Employees", which is now being mailed, is identical with that set forth is "Employers' Guide", which covered the check made before May 1st, 1944.

Employers are asked to remember in they do not report on men who do possess the necessary documents-only on those who fail to present documents for examination, or where there is doubt that the document presented actually proves good s anding.

The employers of Canada co-operated very satisfactoric on the first check, made up to May 1st last. This co-operation was decidedly helpful, and is very much appreciated. Further o. operation is now earnestly requested.

Schedule 9 and details as to documents which prove good standing, are available through the Employment and Selective Service Offices.

Three Religious Of The Order while the che sings the sad but Mary's-on-the-Hill.

At 10 a.m., on Sunday, August 27, 1944, in St. Mary's Ukrainian Catholic Church, Grimsty, Solemn Perpetual Vows were professed by three religious of the Order of Saint Basil the Great: Rev. Bro. Hilarion Adams, O.S.B.M., Rev. Bro. Nicon Swirsky, O.S.B.M., and Rev. Bro. Patrick Paschak, C.S. B.M. The Basilian Order was force?" founded by Saint Basil the Great, Bishop of Caesarea and one of the most distinguished Fathers and Doctors of the Oriental Church. Saint Basil lived in the 4th century and the Order takes its origin about the year 356.

Chastity and obedience were taken sion. for life. Preparatory to Solemn Profession, a noviceship or spiritual training period is required, to their habits and cinctures, the followed by several years of Simple Vows. The vows may be received only by the Superior General of the Basilian Order residing at Rome, or by his appointed delegate who in this case is Rev. Nicholas Kohut,

Here Is Where Mayor Johnson Got His Start In Business Life

Not in a long time has The Independent printed an old time picture that caused as much controversy as the one above, if the people were gathered together that the citizens figured were the ones in this picture, Moore's theatre would not hold them.

This picture is 50 years of age. It was taken in 1894. The store was that of Peter H. Gamble, grocer, and was located where the Busy Bee restaurant now is. Mr. Gamble was in this store for some years and in the very early 1900's purchased the general store business of the late Wm. "Squire" Forbes, which was in the building now occupied by Johnson's Hardware. The young lad with the eyebrow moustache standing behind the ladies is Walter Riddiford, who lived on top of the Thirty mountain and went to Grimsby High school. He graduated from university as a Baptist minister and married Miss Kemp, a sister ci John Kemp. He is now Capt. Riddiford, M. C. of Burlington.

The ladies reading from left to right are Mrs. Beverly R. Miss Buckwell, Mrs. Peter H. Gamble, all sisters. The little old as near as we can ascertain, was Mrs. Rev. Bourne, who visited with the Gambles. The next lady was a Miss Holmes who was panion of Mrs. Nelles. Then comes Peter H. and that bright man behind the counter is Mayor Edric S. Johnson, then a bro boy just a few months out of school and determined to make his in business life. He did. After Gamble bought the Forbes busin purchased the Ther J. Noble grocery business where the Doralico Cafe now is, later with his brother Captain Ralph T. (Vancouver.) purchasing the Gamble business, which they conducted until when Captain Ealph went to war and Edric sold out and eve went overseas, also. That black haired gentleman with the har moustache is none other than Councillor Alfred Barrington Bourne. Now folks, that's the whole story and there isn't any

JAM ON THEIR BREAD FOR THOUSANDS IN BRITAIN

There will be jam on their bread or thousands in Britain this year brough work and organization of vomen in Ontario. Under the 'Jam for Britain" project spensored by the Women's Institutes and Canadian Red Cross Society, tons of jam will be shipped to Great Britain in the next rew months.

Donations of money, jam and honey have already been sent from more than 90 Red Cross Branches and practically every Women's Institute in the province, Money contributed thus far, $3,800-is used for the purchase of factory made jam for areas where it is not practical to prepare home-made

The government is allowing sugir for this project which it is expected will suppy 400,000 pounds of jam from Canada for the civilian victims of war in Britain, Canadian troops in hospitals and British wartime nurseries. Ontario's share in the amount will be 250,000 pounds.

Further information about Ontario's jam project may be had - Miss Nesta Hinton, supervis-T nutrition, Ontario Division of Red Cross, 621 Jarvis St., Toronto

RED CROSS WORKERS FACE INCREASED DUTIES

"Let us brace ourselves to do our duty and bear ourselves that if the British Commonwealth and Empire last 10r a thousand years, men will say this was their finest hour." It was during the dark and seemingly hopeless days of June 1940 that Winston Churchill addressed these words to his people.

Women in Red Cross have carried on loyally through the war years. As a result of the work of Canadian women, the National Women's war Work Committee last year distributed over 13,000,-000 articles, more than 11,000,000 of which went overseas, and more than 1,500,000 were intended for civilian relief overseas.

With news of Allied victories overseas and the great sweep towards victory, there has arisen in the minds of many women the idea, "the war is nearly over--we need not do any more work for the p.m., the foowing: Red Cross."

Quite on the contrary, there is a greater need than ever today fo faithful Red Cross women to com- Mattresses, Dressers and Stands. plete their task. SPORTOLOGY

By Bones Livingston, Sportologist

IT HAPENS ONCE IN A LIFE TIME

Aer 40 years in sport as a baseball player, softball player, hockey trmer, umpare, cribbage and pinochle expert and five-pin bowier extraclinary, Smoke McBride at last had to take to the tall timbers afterfacing a battalion of irate fans and undergoing a ombardment of stoes, vegetables and what have you.

It all happend last Friday night and to say the least Milton, the Hub of Halton county should be justly proud of the sportsmanship of its populace. Peach jings took the second game from the Miltonians right on their own grands by a score of 7-2 after giving them a terrible larruping here acouple of nights previous. The half-witted fans of the backwoods bus did not take kindly to being trimmed up in their own backyard and Ht all hair-brained sport followers tried to take it out on His Majesty he Umps Old Smoke happened to be their pet pick and they suremade it hot for the Old Timer. They heaped all kinds of abuse on hishead during the game and when the battle was over tried to put the him's rush on him but did not succeed very well.

After Smoke Big Rush and a couple of the other boys got in their car then the rcks began to fly. Eush's car body shows evidence of that. When the got to the gate leaving the grounds they found it closed and barru and had to brave a bar age of stones to get it open. No one was injurd and no glass broken in the car.

Such tactics asthis are not to be conconed. It is fools like this Milton crowd that ruin all kinds of sport everywhere and the sooner the police or town grials step in where incidents of this kind occur and make an example of the culprits the better sport and sportsmanship will be of .. . will the town or village concerned be better off, by avoiding the married of their fair name by a bunch of hoodlums Milton has nothing to be proud of over last Friday nigh's demonstration by its fans, but rather its once good name for far play and sportsmanship has been dragged !: | the mud.

LITTLE WHIZZER IS AN ARTIST WITH THE BRUSH

You may not believe it, but some day you are going to wake up and find a canvas of some rare scene of beauty hanging in the world's greatest art galleries. A painting from the brush of Little Whizzer Kanmacher.

The little fellow can wield a paint brush like nobody's business. I watched him for a few minutes the other day and it was really astonishing the things that he can accomplish with a can of paint and a two-bit brush. He his done all the painting and decorating in The Bowlaway this summer and would not be surprised that by opening day, which is Labor Day, the ceilings will be bright blue skies, with white fleecy slouds and angels floating through space. His technique is really marvellous and we believe you will say so too when you glimpse the swell job that he has done in relecorating The Bowlaway.

The alleys have all been resurfaced, new pins and sowis are ready for use and in every way the old pleasure spot is in great shape for a real session of fin and relaxation this coming fal and win-

NIGHT PROWLER

We did it at VIMY ... and CAEN-In fact, Charlie has been moved to using several cuss words. Provincial at t town police have so far failed to pick up a scent as to her whereabouts.

Here's another one. One night last week Police Chief W. W. Turner was standing on his fruit verandah when he heard a noise coming down the sidewalk that sounded like a peg-legged man stumping along, but there was no one in sight. Presently in the twilight he noted a glimmer approaching and to and behold here was a tkunk with its head fast in a glass bottle and every time it stepped ahead the bottle klunked on the concrete sidewalk.

The Chief and some neighbours gave chase and the skunk ran into a tile drain. They waited at the other end of the drain but it did not come cut, although they could hear the bottle banging on the tile. By this time they had a rifle with which to dispense the rodent. Next they tried smoking the skunk out but this did not work so they gave up the job in disgust. Two days later town employees working on the town dump at the lake noticed something shining in the "un that was moving. Warily the proached it and there was Mr. Skunk bottle and all. They soon removed him from this sphere.

We know another good skunk story too, but on second thought we will not tell it. Aromatically yours.

months of 1944, more than double the number of toli callr were sent on their way out of Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto than during the first six months of 1939. With such unprecedented demands for use of long distance lines as well as for other types of service, the te'sphone craftsman and operator faced the alternative of reducing the time lost due to "outages" and inefficiency, or deny service to some of the essential calls. The challenge was met. Giving effect to belief that high initial cost is to be desired over high upkeep costs, the company had long held to a policy of installing equipment of superior materials and design. Physical performance under embstantial over-

Notwithstanding loss of half of its 1939 Ontario male workers to the armed forces, the job has been done. Block Off Road For Protection

As a measure of protection against the possibility of some car or truck tumbling over the 30foot lake bank at the foot of Ofield's side road, it has been learned from Reeve Charles Durham, the Township council, under authority of the highways department, intends to place a large checkerboard sign and another sign reading Closed to Traffic -Dangerous, across the road allowance at a point about 200 feet from the lake bank.

This will mean that the Ofield road will only be open to the Barton street road. The road allowance actually extends to the lakeshore, but apparently the 200 odd feet between the Barton road and the lake has only been used as a parking spot for night parties.
